Controlled Remote Viewing

Remote Viewing Summary Report Session #1CTCCW 128011

(c) Lori Williams May 2017

Prior to viewing this target, I was given the information:

The target is biological. Describe the target.

Beginning the session, about halfway down on page 1, I had a sudden "knowing" sense that the target must be Big Foot, or Sasquatch. We call an assumption of this sort "analytic overlay" or AOL, because it comes from the conscious mind. Regardless of whether the assumption is correct or incorrect, it is still an assumption, and even more importantly, it is a noun. Nouns tend to identify, rather than describe. So my job as a remote viewer at this point was to simply set the assumption aside and continue with the session.

Physical Descriptors:

Humanoid
Brown
Furry
Hairy
Big Tall
Really tall!
Thin
Bi-ped
Erect Stinky
Emollient
Gamey smelling
Dirty
Greasy
Thick Haired
Ugly
Big teeth
Stinky breath
Long arms and legs

Protruding mouth and lower jaw

Habitat/Location:

Green
Brushy
Thick
Humid
Swamplike
Crunching Sounds
Snapping Sounds
Very Dark
Inky Darkness
Cooler
Damp
Damp
High - pitched sounds
Squeaking
Flapping sounds
Grunting sounds

At this point, the words "portal" and "Inter-dimensional" came to me. I had the sense of the blackness all around me; the sounds of what I interpreted to be bats also seemed to be surrounding me. I wanted to stop the session, but I continued. My monitor said, "Move to the thinking processes of the biological and describe."

Thinking Processes:

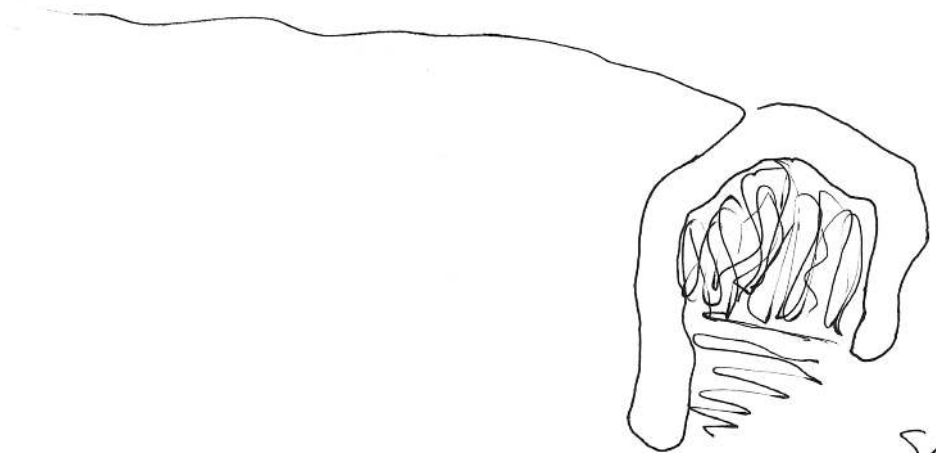

Foreign
Very Different
Abstract
I cannot relate Intelligent Cunning
Hunter-Gatherer
Feels a need to hide...
Alone

(Moving to the "original origin on Earth" of the Biological:)

Blue
Green
Hot Beautiful

Cool
Damp
Humid
Misty
It feels like a place that no longer exists
Long, long ago
Originated on this planet between 20,000 and 25,000 years ago

They came back and forth through a "time portal"
The "time portal" exists in great darkness within a cave like structure.

Description of Time Portal:

Dark
Vibrating
Deep underground
The darkness is almost tangible, it is so thick.
They move so quietly back and forth.

Conversation with the Sasquatch-like Consciousness:

(At this point in the session, I began conversing with what I consider to be the collective consciousness of that which we refer to as "Sasquatch"):

Lori: Why are you here?

S: Why are you here? Do you have a reason to be on Earth? We are surviving. We are Beings, like you. We simply want to thrive. We want to love our offspring and our mates and enjoy our homes in peace.

(At this point, I was asked to "Move to the beginning of the Bio's time on Earth and describe.")

Green, hot, steamy, densely-forested, millions of years ago...

(Lori asks): How did you come to be here?

(S): We were brought here.
We share a different density.
We are able to come and go through time/space portals.
It is often not intentional, and feels uncontrolled.

(Conversation between Lori and the Group Consciousness of that which we call "Sasquatch" continues):

(S): We slip into other time frames, yet remain in the same space,
which makes it look as though we disappear.
But we find ourselves in a distant time.
This allows us to survive in hostile environments
because we seem to slip away frequently.
We also find abundant food for our plant diet.

(Note: They slip back and forth into different time slots, and since they live in forested areas, and usually slip into time backwards -- into the past -- they escape predators and find lush vegetation in which to hide and eat.)

Lori: How do you feel about humans?

(S): Humans are our natural enemy.
We feel that humans are predators and savage.
We are peace-loving and originated genetically and physically in a very peacefully world -- a peaceful dimension.
Humans are very violent and have a very strong odor, which we find to be very unpleasant. They are very predatory and like to hunt us.

(Regarding the ability to move through time):

Just as skunks have an odor defense and other animals have natural cloaking or camouflage, our ability to slip backwards and forwards through time is our natural defense.

Lori: How do you move through time?

(S): Like other animals, our mechanism is triggered naturally to defend us. We do not understand the mechanism -- just as a rattlesnake doesn't understand the mechanism of how venom comes through his fangs, we do not know how we move through time. The mechanism is triggered by fear.

(S): Love is the key to draw us together so we do not become separated from our loved ones in the vast expanse of time. Love is a powerful force, much like gravity. The laws of gravity determine that which goes up must eventually come down, on Earth at least. The laws of Love simply act as magnets or ties through time to bring us back with our loved ones. We share a harmonic frequency that matches and allows us to always find our familial beings.

At this point, I noted that "I feel as though I am getting these answers from the "group consciousness" or subconscious minds of the Sasquatch, put into a language that I am able to understand.

My monitor asked, "Could there be a Biblical tie to Sasquatch?" there was total silence in my mind, as though the group consciousness is totally unaware of what the Bible is.

(Continuing, Lori asks mentally:) "What kind of life span do you have?"

(S): 150 years.

(Monitor asks if there is any relation between Orbs and the biological:)

(Lori): Orbs are a separate being - totally separate from Sasquatch, from another dimension and much more ethereal than Sasquatch. Sasquatch is much more corporeal.

As we prepared to end the session, the monitor asked "Anything else? A message to humanity?"

(S): We have existed on Earth for millions of years and will continue here long after humanity ceases to exist on this planet. We are able to escape any disaster, unlike humans, who are limited to one time/space package per life time. Therefore, humans should use their time package wisely and love rather than war. Enjoy your families and live in love.

Session End.

Analysis and Caveats

Controlled Remote Viewing is not a perfect science, and it should be noted that any time a remote viewer is remote viewing a target which is esoteric in nature -- that is, having no solid, prove-able feedback with which to compare session perceptions with prove-able reality -- the results of such a session must be taken "with a grain of salt." The results of such a session can only be weighed based on a tried-and-proven track record of the remote viewer. My track record in the professional remote viewing database is 87%.

Another thing to consider when looking at remote viewing in general is that it is possible to remote view a collective idea. For example, let's say that a remote viewer is given the target of Santa Claus. "Santa Claus" is a very well-known character in the minds of billions all over the Earth. Therefore, his bright red suit, his shiny black belt, and his sleigh led by reindeer are also well-known and established thought forms, and can be easily picked up on by any good remote viewer.

Prior to this session on Big Foot, I have never been at all interested in the subject of Big Foot or Sasquatch. I have never read books about the subject, nor have I watched any documentaries, YouTube videos, etc. It just has not ever been an area that drew my attention. Nevertheless, I could be picking up on what other people think, believe and create regarding Big Foot. My remote viewing session cannot be considered "proof" of anything for that reason.

While doing this session, I did feel that I was "connected" some how, and the information about time portals and moving back and forth through time as a defense mechanism caught me totally by surprise. Fascinating!

I hope you have enjoyed reading this report as much as I enjoyed the remote viewing that precipitated it.
